To Whom it May Concern,

As the activities manager at the Game Creek Club in Vail, CO, I have had the privilege of working with Mark Masters on two different comedy events over the last two years. First and foremost, Mark knows great comedy and has relationships and ability to book reputable comedians across the country. The last show we had with Nathan Macintosh had everyone in the room laughing hysterically from start to finish. Not only does Mark book great comedians, he makes the entire process easy for you. He sets up the venue with a professional touch with emphasis on lighting and seating orientation to best suit the venue for a great comedy show with an intimate feel. Mark set up a great online ticketing process for us that I could monitor in real time. He's also great at helping provide marketing material to help promote your event.

From our first meeting, I felt that Mark was a great communicator and a professional at what he does. He's always quick to return emails or phone calls, and never slips on details. Mark's high level of integrity is never in doubt, and that will become very apparent when you work with him on any type of event. I would highly recommend Mark Masters and the Vail Comedy Show.

Sincerely,

Mike Polk
